Returns to Big Spring.

Mr. Ben Clarkson, who was a heavy investor in the Owensboro Pants Factory, which does not seem to have prospered as was at first thought it would, has been in the city the past few days trying to get something back of his investment through the medium of the courts. He returned to his home yesterday. Before going he said: "Yes, I am going back to the farm and I shall stay there this time. I suppose it is necessary for a young man to take chances at first experience. I did it and it has cost me something, but I believe I shall be more contented now."

Mr. Clarkson is one of the cleverest young men who ever came to Owensboro with the honest purpose of bettering himself and also of bettering his adopted town and his many friends regret very much that his venture was not a success.—Saturday's Owensboro Messenger.

The American Water Shows.

The Great American Water Shows were formerly known to the people of Cloverport as the Great American Water Circus, which exhibited in this city last year, giving pleasure and satisfaction to an audience of hundreds. The show this year is much larger and better than it was last year, many new and attractive features having been added. It is presented under an immense tent on a colossal barge, this manner of exhibition being a novel feature. While the management does not claim to have the largest circus in the world it claims to have one of the best now before the public. The Great American Water Shows are honestly conducted and honestly advertised, and polite treatment an attention are shown to all its patrons by its employees. Come out to the show at the Thompson or evening performance Thursday, June 30, at the river, and enjoy a moral, refined performance of killed animals.

John P. Haswell's Opinion of The Republican Convention.

When a News reporter asked John P. Haswell, Jr., about the national convention held at Chicago last week, he said: "Since it was the first National Convention I ever attended it was highly entertaining to me. All the great leaders of the party were there and, notwithstanding the fact that there was no contest, it was very enthusiastic. The demonstration when the President was nominated lasted twenty-three minutes. It was a sight never to be forgotten. Gov. Bradley's speech seconding the nomination of Roosevelt was strikingly eloquent and made a big hit with the great crowd. It was one of the very finest speeches delivered during the whole convention and surpassed many of them. Several of the delegates sitting next me, who were from Connecticut and Tennessee, said it was a splendid effort and that Roosevelt should give him a place in his cabinet. Kentucky Republicans may well be proud of their brilliant and eloquent ex-Governor.
"A general good feeling prevailed among the delegates and the action of the convention was harmonious throughout. It presages a great victory for Roosevelt and Fairbanks in November."

Horse Intelligence.

(Donut Animals.)

A Boston gentleman connected with the National Tube Works sends us the following, for the "truth of which he vouches."

My friend was a ship-builder; his shipyard was some miles from his house, which distance he had to cover on horseback. He had a white horse that had carried him long and faithfully in this capacity.

One day his horse fell, for some cause that I do not remember, and he was thrown to the ground and severely cut on the head.

He was unconscious for some time, and when he "came to," found the horse standing by him.

After a while he gathered himself up and attempted to mount the horse, but every time he tried he fell back.

Finally the horse walked to the side of a large rock which stood near the gentleman's house, and the horse stood by him.

The gentleman crawled along to it and after hard work got on the horse, and then the horse walked slowly and carefully home with him, the rider being in a semi-conscious condition.

The family removed him from the horse on his arrival home and put him to bed. He was a long while recovering from this accident, and one day when convalescing, the horse, being brought to the window, were the gentleman sat, showed unmistakable signs of pleasure at seeing his master once more. The gentleman is still living and can corroborate this true horse story.

The condition of Mrs. Wm. B. Minor, of Addison, is improved.

LEADERS CHOSEN.

Chicago, June 28.—Without a dissenting voice, Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, and Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, were today afternoon nominated for President and Vice President of the United States by the National Republican Convention. In the case of Mr. Roosevelt the roll of states was called, but when the vice-presidential nomination of Fairbanks had been concluded the roll was dispensed with and the nomination announced by acclamation.

Starting Evidence.
Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery Consumption Cough and Cold to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Bentonville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without any benefit. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Grip. Guaranteed by Short & Haynes, Druggists. Trial bottles free, regular sizes 50c. and $1.00.

Kentuckians in Mississippi.
Jackson, Miss., June 28.—Governor Beahm, of Kentucky, and party arrived in the city this morning in a special car at 10 o'clock. They were met by Governor Vardaman, Secretary of State Joe Power, Attorney General Williams and Revenue Commissioner Wirt Adams, who composed the Mississippi capitol Commission and were driven in carriages to the new state house. They carefully went over the new building, inspecting every room and the arrangement of every department. Governor Beahm expressed himself as being well pleased with Mississippi's new building. He thought it was a splendid model. The ladies of the party were also shown over the building. At 1 o'clock they were driven to the mansion, where they were received by Governor Vardaman and his wife and entertained, a delightful dinner being served. They leave tonight for New Orleans.

Where He Falls.
"It's too bad the average man can't be satisfied with a good living and not be hungry for more. He is not satisfied. The average man is satisfied with a good living. The only trouble is that his idea of a good living grows with his experience."

For a Hundred Years.
For a hundred years or more Witch Hazel has been recognized as a superior remedy, but it remained for E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, to discover how to combine the virtues of Witch Hazel with other antiseptics. In the form of a salve, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the best salve in the world for sores, cuts, burns and piles. The high standing of this salve has given rise to counterfeits and the public is asked to look for the name "DeWitt" on the package, and accept no other. Sold by all druggists.

The Shortest Twilight.

The period of twilight shortens to ward the equator and lengthens to ward the poles. In other words, the less the thickness of the air through which the rays of the setting sun have to pass the sooner darkness comes. From this it naturally follows that the region of the shortest twilight is the one which is situated nearest to the equator and at the greatest elevation. These two conditions are combined in the region in which stands Quito, the capital of Ecuador. The plateau is 9,442 feet above the level of the sea. It is also surrounded by mountains, twenty peaks, eleven of which rise beyond the snow line, being visible from the streets of the city. Added to this, it is only fifteen miles south of the equator; hence it has a shorter twilight than any other spot on the equator partly because of the elevation and partly because the western mountains intercept the rays of the setting sun and so cause darkness to follow daylight with greater rapidity than at any other spot on earth.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known now to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation for the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

The platform which was adopted by the general committee on resolutions as it came from the subcommittee, with practically no discussion, at the National Republican convention in Chicago, last week, was adopted unanimously. It is as follows:—

Fifty years ago the Republican party came into existence, dedicated, among other purposes, to the great task of arresting the extension of human slavery. In 1860 it elected its first President. During twenty-four of the forty-four years which have elapsed since the election of Lincoln, the Republican party has held complete control of the government. For eighteen more of the forty-four years it has held partial control, through the possession of one or more branches of the government, while the Democratic party, during the same period, has had complete control for only a few years. This long tenure of power by the Republican party is not due to chance. It is a demonstration that the Republican party has commanded the confidence of the American people for nearly two generations, to a degree never equaled in our history, and has displayed a high capacity for rule and government, which has made even more conspicuous by the incapacity and inactivity of purpose shown by its opponents.

Gold Standard Established.

We firmly established the gold standard which was then menaced with destruction. Confidence returned to business, and with confidence an unexampled prosperity. For deficient revenue, supplemented by improvident issues of bonds, we gave the country an income which produced a large surplus and which enabled us only four years after the Spanish war had closed to remove or $100,000,000 of annual war taxes, reduce the public debt, and lower the interest charges of the government.

The public credit, which had been so lowered that in time of peace a Democratic administration made large loans at extravagant rates of interest in order to pay current expenditures, rose under the Republican administration to its highest point, and enabled us to borrow at 3 per cent, even in time of war.

War with Spain.

We refused to pander longer with the miseries of Cuba. We fought a quick and victorious war with Spain, set Cuba free, gave her the island for three years, and then gave it to the Cuban people with order restored, with ample revenues, with education and public health established, free from debt and contented.

We have organized the government of Puerto Rico, and its people now enjoy peace, freedom, order and prosperity.

In the Philippines we have suppressed insurrection, established order, and given to life and property a security never known there before. We have organized civil government, made it effective and strong in administration, and have conferred upon the people of these islands the largest civil liberty they ever enjoyed.

By our possession of the Philippines we were enabled to take prompt and effective action in the relief of the legations at Peking, and a decisive part in preventing the partition and the pre-empting of the integrity of China.

Isthmian Canal.

The possession of a route for an isthmian canal, so long the dream of American statesmanship, is now an accomplished fact. The great work of connecting the Pacific and Atlantic oceans by a canal is at last begun, and it is due to the Republican party. We have passed laws which will bring the arid lands of the United States within the area of cultivation.

We have reorganized the army and put it in the highest state of efficiency.

We have passed laws for the improvement and support of the militia.

We have pushed forward the building of the navy, the defense and the protection of our honor and our interests.

Our administration of the great departments of the government has been honest and efficient, and where wrong doing has been discovered the Republican administration has not hesitated to probe the evil and bring offenders to justice without regard to party or political ties.

Laws enacted by the Republican party which the Democratic party failed to enforce, and which were intended for the protection of the public against the unjust discrimination and the illegal encroachment of vast aggregations of capital, have been fearfully evaded by a Republican President, and new laws containing reasonable publicity as to the operations of great corporations and providing additional remedies for the prevention of discrimination in freight rates, have been passed by a Republican Congress.

In this record of achievement during the past eight years may be read the pledges which the Republican party has fulfilled. We propose to continue these policies and we declare our constant adherence to the following principles:

Real Protection.

Protection which guards and develops our industries is a cardinal policy of the Republican party. The measure of protection should always at least equal the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad. We insist upon the maintenance of the principles of protection, and, therefore, rates of duty should be readjusted only when conditions have so changed that the public interest demands their alteration, but this work cannot safely be committed to any other hands than those of the Republican party. To entrust it to the Democratic party is to invite disaster.

The Democratic Tariff.

Whether, as in 1892, the Democratic party declared the protective tariff to be unconstitutional, or whether it demands tariff reform or tariff revision, its real object is always the destruction of the protective system. However specious the name, the purpose is ever the same. A Democratic tariff has always been followed by business adversity; a Republican tariff by business prosperity.

No Time to Falter.

To a Republican Congress and a Republican President this great question can be safely entrusted. When the only free trade country among the great nations agitates a return to protection the chief protective country should not falter in maintaining it. We have extended widely our foreign markets, and we believe in the adoption of all practicable methods for their further extension, including commercial reciprocity wherever reciprocal arrangements can be affected, consistent with the principles of protection, and without injury to American agriculture, American labor, or any American industry.

We believe it to be the duty of the Republican party to uphold the gold standard and the integrity and value of our national currency. The maintenance of the gold standard, established by the Republican party, cannot safely be committed to the Democratic party, which resisted its adoption and has never given any proof since that time of belief in it or fidelity to it.

Ship Subsidy Favored.

While every other industry has prospered under the fostering aid of Republican legislation, American shipping engaged in foreign trade competition with the low cost of construction, low wages and heavy subsidies of foreign governments has for many years received from the government of the United States adequate encouragement of any kind. We therefore favor legislation which will encourage and build up the American merchant marine, and we cordially approve the legislation of the last Congress, which created the Merchant Marine Commission to investigate and report upon this subject.

Powerful Navy.

A navy powerful enough to defend the United States against any attack, to uphold the Monroe doctrine and watch over our commerce is essential to the safety and welfare of the United States. To maintain such a navy is the fixed policy of the Republican party.

We cordially approve the attitude of President Roosevelt and Congress in regard to the extension of Chinese labor and the continuance of the Republican policy in that direction.

Civil Service Law.

The civil service law was placed on the statute books by the Republican party, which has always maintained it, and we renew our former declarations that it shall be thoroughly and honestly enforced.

We are always mindful of the country's debt to the soldiers and sailors of the United States, and we believe in making ample provision for them and in the liberal administration of the pension laws. We favor the peaceful settlement of international differences by arbitration.

As Regard China.

We commend the vigorous efforts made by the administration to protect American citizens in foreign lands, and pledge ourselves to insist upon the just and equal protection of all our citizens abroad. It is the unquestioned duty of our government to protect for all our citizens, without distinction, the rights of travel and sojourn in friendly countries, and we declare ourselves in favor of all proper efforts tending to that end.

Our great interests and our growing condition of China of high importance to the United States. We cordially commend the policy pursued in that direction by the administration of President McKinley and President Roosevelt.

Franchise Laws.

We favor such Congressional action as shall determine whether by special discriminations the elective franchise in any State has been unconstitutionally limited, and if such is the case, we demand that Republicans in Congress and in the electoral college shall be proportionately reduced, as directed by the Constitution of the United States.

Trust Question.

Combinations of capital and of labor are the results of the economic movement of the age, but neither must be permitted to infringe upon the rights and interests of the people. Such combinations, when lawfully formed for lawful purposes, are also entitled to the protection of the laws, but both are subject to the laws, and neither can be permitted to break them.

Tribute to McKinley.

The great statesman and patriotic American, William McKinley, was re-elected by the Republican party to the Presidency four years ago, was assassinated just at the threshold of his second term. The entire nation mourned his untimely death and did that justice to his great qualities of mind and character which history will confirm and repeat.

Roosevelt Plan of the Hour.

The American people were fortunate in his successor, to whom they turned with a trust and confidence which have been fully justified. President Roosevelt brought to the great responsibility thus forced upon him a clear head, a brave heart, an earnest patriotism and high ideals of public duty and public service. True to the principles of the Republican party and to the policies which that party had declared he has also shown himself ready for every emergency, and as met new and vital questions with ability and with success.

The confidence of the people in his justice, inspired by his public career, enables him to render personally an inestimable service to the country by bringing about a settlement of the coal strike which threatened such disastrous results at the opening of the winter in 1902.

Complete Supremacy.

The Republican party entered upon its present period of complete supremacy in 1897.

We have every right to congratulate ourselves upon the work since then accomplished, for it has addeduster even to the traditions of the party which carried the party through the storms of the civil war.

We then found the party, after four years of Democratic rule, in evil plight, oppressed with misfortune and doubtful of the future. Public credit had been lowered, the revenues were declining, the debt was growing and the administration's attitude toward Spain was feeble and mortifying. The standard of values were threatened and uncertain, labor was unemployed, business was sunk in the depression which had succeeded the panic of 1893, hope was want and confidence was gone.

We now find these unhappy conditions vigorously, effectively and at once.

We replaced a Democratic tariff law based on free trade principles and garbled with sectional protection, by a consistent protective tariff, and industry freed from oppression and stimulated by the encouragement of new laws, has expanded to a degree never before known, has conquered new markets and has created a new volume of exports which has surpassed previous records. Under the Dingley tariff labor has been fully employed. Wages have risen and all industries have revived and prospered.

Foreign Policy.

Our foreign policy under his administration has not only been able, vigorous and dignified, but in the highest degree successful. The complicated questions which arose in Venezuela were settled in such a way by President Roosevelt that the Monroe doctrine was signally vindicated, and the cause of peace and arbitration greatly advanced.

The Panama Canal.

His prompt and vigorous action in Panama, which we commend in the highest terms, not only secured to us the canal route, but avoided foreign complications which might have been of a very serious character.

He has continued the policy of President McKinley in the Orient and our position in China, signified by our recent commercial treaty with that Empire, has never been so high.

He secured the tribunal by which the vexed and perilous question of Alaskan boundary was finally settled. Whenever crises against humanity have been perpetrated, which have shocked our people, his protest has been made, and our good offices have been tendered, but always with due regard to international obligations.

Under his guidance we find ourselves at peace with all the world, and never were we more respected or our wishes more regarded by foreign nations. Domestic Relations.

Pre-eminently successful in regard to our foreign relations, he has been equally fortunate in dealing with domestic questions. The country has known that the public credit and the national currency were absolutely safe in the hands of his administration. In the enforcement of the laws he has shown not only courage, but the wisdom which understands that to permit laws to be violated or disregarded opens the door to anarchy, while the just enforcement of the law is the surest conservatism. He has held firmly to the fundamental American doctrine that there must be no distinction between rich and poor, between strong and weak, but that justice and equal protection under the law must be secured to every citizen without regard to race, creed or condition.

His administration throughout has been vigorous and honorable, high-minded and patriotic. We commend it without reservation to the judgment of the American people.
